'WHAT THE HELL DID I JUST WATCH?' COMEDY VIDEO FESTIVAL OPENS DOORS AGAIN

Comedy Video Festival Milks Success Of First Season

SEATTLE, Washington – December 15, 2006 - On January 13th, the earth will tremble as gods of ancient past descend from mountains on high to rain down terror and rage upon mortal man. Thundering through the streets demanding obedience and sacrifice.... um... or not. Either way there's a comedy festival going on.

At 7:00pm and 8:30pm on January 13th and 20th the 'What The Hell Did I Just Watch?' Comedy Video Festival will debut a whole new slop of shorts, sketches, and TV pilots at the Rendezvous Jewel Box Theater in downtown Seattle.

With over 100 submissions judged, evaluated and pressed through a fine strainer, each video shown is cherry-picked for its laugh factor and nothing else, making sweet, sweet comedy wine. This festival is ramped up to be bigger, funnier, and more intense than last year's festival; just the thing for that New Year's hangover you're still nursing.

The 'What The Hell Did I Just Watch?' Video Comedy Festival was started by Seattle based video production group OH! The Humanity. The festival was created to give the truly funny a chance to be seen and turns a blind eye to production value, star power, or marketability. Only the laughter matters.
